DEAFNESS.

DR. McNAIR'S ACOUSTIC OIL.

THOSE DEAF FROM INFANCY often receive in a most miraculous manner their hearing when they least expect it by some trifling accident or event, which shows them how easily they might have much sooner had their hearing, and saved themselves and their friends the pain of conversing in a loud tone, without pleasure, or of being neglected and shunned to avoid that distress which is felt mutually by the deaf person and his hearers. How sacred a duty, therefore, it is that we use all necessary means to remove such an affliction, and enjoy the social qualities implanted in our nature? The EAR OIL has the effect so to relieve the tension, and bring into use the natural action of the parts, as to restore the hearing when lost or impaired. For sale by G. W. LADD.

MARINE RAILWAY AT ST. THOMAS.

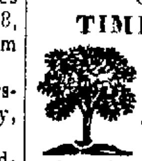

A COMPANY was formed three years since in the Danish Island of St. Thomas, for the purpose of building a Marine Railway, capable of taking up vessels of 1000 tons burden. Engineers were sent out from England, as well as all the machinery for its construction. The Railway is now completed, and the Directors having spared no expense in building it in the most substantial and perfect manner, competent persons, after very careful examination, and witnessing the practical operation of its powers, have pronounced it a finished piece of workmanship, equal in every respect to any Marine Railway in Europe or the United States. The harbor of St. Thomas is safe, commodious, and easy of entrance to vessels of the largest capacity; and all the necessary materials, of the best description, for repairing vessels, are constantly for sale at reasonable prices. The mechanics are as skillful as can be found elsewhere, and the expenses of repairing are more moderate than at any other port in the West Indies.

Masters of vessels sustaining injury at sea, and under the necessity of proceeding to a southern port for repairs, are invited to consider the many advantages enjoyed by St. Thomas, not only as it respects the despatch and facility with which their repairs can be completed, but for the certainty of finding there every thing requisite and necessary to complete them, and at prices varying but little from what would be charged in the principles cities of this country. EAST INDIA HAIR DYE.

Colors the Hair, and will not the Skin

THIS Dye is in form of a powder, which in plain matter of fact may be applied to the hair over night, the first night turning the lightest RED or GREY HAIR to a dark brown, and by repeating a second or third night to a bright jet black. Any person may, therefore, with the least possible trouble, keep his hair any dark shade or perfect black with a positive assurance that the powder, if applied to the skin will not color it. By an occasional application, a person turning grey will never be known to have a grey hair. Directions complete with the article. There is no coloring in this statement, as one can easily test.

These facts are warranted by the gentleman who manufactures it, who is the celebrated Chemist, DR. COMSTOCK, author of Comstock's Chemistry, Philosophy, and other works, and School Books, well known and widely celebrated by the public.

MISCELLANEOUS.

From the Symbol and Odd Fellow's Magazine.

UNCLE JONATHAN;
Or, The Anti-Odd Fellow.

BY ABEL FLETCHER.

In a beautiful valley in the interior of New England, is situated a thriving and pleasant village, which we shall call Erwin. It is surrounded by many lofty hills, whose sides are regularly laid out into fields and pastures, and occasionally interspersed with a shady grove, with now and then a jagged rock lifting its hoary head to heaven, and presenting at the village below, a scene charming and beautiful to behold. Through the centre of Erwin, flows a delightful stream, abounding with rich scenery, whose waters, the enterprising and industrious inhabitants, have turned to their own advantage, by erecting upon its banks several manufactories of different kinds.

It was among the hands employed in these manufactories, that the project was first conceived, of establishing an Odd Fellow's Lodge in the village of Erwin, for the purpose of Benevolence and Charity, and of affording each other mutual assistance in the hour of sickness and distress. Some of them had already seen and experienced the benefits of such societies in other places, where they had resided, and felt assured that they could not fail to be useful wherever they existed and were properly conducted; hence they were anxious to have one formed in their present place of residence. Accordingly, a meeting was called for that purpose, and in a short time a Lodge was established, which, in three months' time, numbered about fifty members, of good and respectable standing in society. As may readily be supposed, the success which attended this enterprise, roused the feelings, and excited the opposition of the enemies of such institutions, and Odd fellowship became, for the present, the principal topic of conversation throughout the village.

All sorts of slander and abuse were heaped upon the Institution and its members, by its enemies. Some said that it was a dangerous concern, and if it was allowed to go on, it would finally ruin the country. Others said that it was rather a small affair—that no respectable men had any thing to do with it, and that none but dirty laborers and smutty mechanics ever joined it. Others, again said it was a pity that such an iniquitous Society should be suffered to exist in this enlightened country for one minute, and especially that any respectable man should join it, or have any thing at all to do with it.

Old Uncle Jonathan Jabber, who was well known in former time, for the conspicuous part he acted in the great Anti Masonic excitement, declared that 'Odd Fellership was nothing but Free Masonry in disguise' that it had 'just altered its name and changed its dress a little, so that people needn't know it,' and that if it continued 'to increase as fast as it has done,' it would soon get to be so that nobody' could 'gain a suit at law, unless he' happened 'to belong to the Odd Fellers, and that every scamp, who' wanted 'to kill any body, or to rob or steal,' could 'easily get rid to the State's prison or the gallows by just joining the Odd Fellers. And for my part, I consider it the wust—the very wust thing that ever come into our little village. My word for it,' said the old man, waxing warmer and warmer, 'unless something is done to put a stop to it right off, it will do ten times more mischief than ever old Masonry did.—Because, you see it has altered its name, and is got up another form; so that it will be hard making the people believe that it is the same thing, until the plaguy scoundrels get the power into their own hands, so that it will be hard getting it away from em again! Depend upon it, these Odd Fellers are bound together by secret oaths, as much as the Masons ever was, and wouldn't no more killing a man any more than the Masons did Morgan.'

'[illegible]' said old Aunt Tabitha, who had all this time been sitting with her eyes and mouth wide open, [illegible] every word her husband said [illegible] 'that [illegible] should ever think of starting such a Society in Erwin.'

'[illegible]' said the old man, stamping his foot on the floor [illegible] one of the thing.'

'Well, Jonathan,' said the old lady, 'what must be done to put a stop to it?'

'Why, we must get up an Anti Odd Fellers Society, [illegible] Anti Masonic Society we used to have, you know,' said Uncle Jonathan.

'[illegible] so we must. I [illegible] thought of that,' said Aunt Tabitha, 'but who will start it, Jonathan?'

'I will,' said the old man, turning down the leaf to an old fashioned desk that stood in one corner of the room, 'I will write some notices now, for a meeten to be held in the school house next Friday evening, on purpose to form an Anti Odd Fellers Society.'

'Friday evening, did you say, husband?—Why, you know the Lyceum at the school-house meets that night.'

'So it does, Tabitha: glad you thought of that. Suppose we call it Thursday evening then?'

'That will do Jonathan,' said his spouse. 'It will be only two days' notice, to be sure, but I guess 'twill be long enough.'

'So, I guess,' said the old man, adjusting his spectacles and beginning to write.'

'Tabitha,' said Jonathan, when he finished writing the notice, 'Just listen while I read, and see how you think this will do.'

Notice is hereby given, that next Thursday evening at early candle light, a meeting will be held in the Centre school-house, for the purpose of forming an Anti-Odd-Fellers' Society.—Every friend of virtue and humanity, and every lover of his country, is earnestly requested to attend, and to lend his aid and influence in opposing that secret enemy to freedom and equal rights, which has recently been introduced into our hitherto peaceful village, under the name of Odd-Fellership.'

'There, Tabitha, how will that answer?' said Jonathan, wiping his pen.

Tabitha made no reply. Tired of waiting for an answer, Uncle Jonathan looked around, when to his surprise he found that she was not in the room.

'Tabitha! TABITHA!!' said the old man, raising his voice, and supposing that she had merely stepped into another apartment; 'TABITHA, I want you to hear this notice read!!!'

But still she did not hear. 'Ah! said Uncle Jonathan, well knowing his wife's habits, 'she has just stepped in at some of the neighbors to tell them about the meeten. So I guess I will write off some more notices, say half a dozen in all, and go and stick 'em up.'

Uncle Jonathan wrote his notices, and taking his hat, went out to post them up. But it was hardly necessary, for by the time he had the last one posted, Aunt Tabitha, in company with two or three of her particular friends—Mrs. Chatter, Mrs. Rattlehead, and Mrs. Gabit—had spread the news all over the village, that there was to be a meeting next Thursday evening at the Centre schoolhouse for the purpose of forming an Anti-Odd-Fellows Society.

When Uncle Jonathan got back to the house, he found that his wife had returned in company with the above mentioned ladies, and that they were busily engaged in discussing the merits of Odd Fellowship.

'Well, Mr Jabber,' said Mrs. Chatter, 'I am really glad to hear that you are going to have something done about this Odd Fellers' Society, for I think it is a shame that they should hold their meetens every week, and not allow the women to go at all. What harm, I would like to know, can there be in letting the women go, if it's such a mighty benevolent society as they tell for? There must be something bad about it, I think or else they wouldn't be so secret.'

'So I say,' said Mrs Rattlehead; 'besides, what do they want to lock the doors, and put curtains up to the windows for, if they don't do any thing that's bad? I am sure if there want some deviltry going on, they wouldn't be so fraid of being seen.'

'Yes, said Mrs. Gabit, 'and they say strange noise are sometimes heard when they meet, such groans, and the rattling of chains, and loud talk, as if threatning life; and Johnny Green said he saw one of them standing at the door of the Lodge, the other night, with a drawn sword in his hand, and when the Lodge was first formed, he saw one of them carry in a spear and a broadaxe. Now what do they want of these things if they don't intended to kill folks when they reveal the secrets?'

'Ah!' said Uncle Jonathan, 'it is a most iniquitous affair, and I really tremble when I think on t; and what's wuss is, that any respectable men should have any thing to do with it.'

'Well,' said Aunt Tabitha, 'I wonder if some plan could not be contrived to find out what they do when they meet and to expose their secrets to the world. Sartainly if such a thing can be done, it ought to be done immediately. Can't some body contrive to hide himself somewhere, sometime when they meet, where he can see all is going on without being seen himself?'

'Oh! there! I've just thought,' responded Mrs Gabit; you know the Odd Fellows Lodge room is in the farther end of the block that I live in, and there is only one tenement between ours and the Lodge room. Well, there is a cockloft, that runs the whole length of the block, and besides, there is a scuttle hole in our garret, by which a person might enter the cockloft and walk along until he got over the Lodge, and then boring a small hole through the plastering he might look down and see every thing that was going on.'

'La! so we might,' said Mrs Chatter; 'what a lucky thing that you thought of it! and we will carry the plan into execution to-night; for you know the Lodge meets this evening at seven o'clock. We will all meet at your house a little before the Lodge room is opened, and Uncle Jonathan and yourself shall go up and get your holes bored through the plastering before any body gets there, so as not to excite any suspicion; and by the time they get ready for business you will be ready to see every thing that is going on.'

'Just so exactly,' said Uncle Johnathan,' and next Thursday evening, when we come to form the Anti-Odd-Fellers' Society, I will, to their consternation and dismay, make their deeds of darkness as [illegible] public; I will expose them all to the world, and make them quail at the sound of my voice, and beneath the weight of my indignation. Justice and judgement will fall down upon their heads, and they shall know that the hidden things of dishonesty, shall not be tolerated in this land of freedom and equal rights, and that their dark and mysterious efforts to subvert government, and to overthrow our country [illegible] secret meetings, and [illegible] signs, that they may rise and trample upon the ruins of their father [illegible] with a [illegible] tribunal! This night shall [illegible] be fixed—their doom be sealed, it may [illegible] heaven spare my [illegible] and honest [illegible] an indignant world shall rise up and frown upon the guilt and treachery of those who sought its ruin, and pronounce blessings upon the heads of those who exposed the secret villainy of mystic institutions.'

OF KENTUCKY

GEORGE EVANS,

SUBJECT TO THE DECISION OF THE BALTIMORE WHIG CONVENTION.

Prospects.

It is a familiar though important fact that the business of the country, the active employment of labor and the success of labor, and the prosperity of the whole depend in no small degree upon a settled policy, upon general confidence, and the consistent action of the government.—It was remarked by Mr Evans, in his admirable speech in vindication of the present tariff law, that a few men in Congress, if so disposed, could unsettle the confidence of the community and by making capitalists timid, defeat in a great measure the growing prosperity of the industry of the country. The indications are strong, too strong, that these men alluded to, are disposed to produce the disastrous results of setting public opinion afloat, and removing the basis upon which the hopes of the laboring men are built.

We do not like to assume the character of an alarmist, but we confess that the present aspect of affairs is unfortunate. A new tariff bill is before Congress, which, of itself, is sufficient to intimidate those interested in having the Protective system the settled policy of the country, and to cause them to pause in their enterprises until they know the result. The mere agitation of this subject, even should the bill be ultimately defeated, will exert a bad and blighting influence upon the industry and the general prosperity of the country. Should the bill pass, a death blow will be given to the Protective policy. Our doors will be thrown wide open for the introduction of foreign manufactures, and our workingmen, in all departments, will struggle against this destructive competition, and linger and falter, until driven, after years of difficulty and distress, to rise up as one man and re-establish the Protective policy, or delve, as best they may, to get their bread, as foreign laborers are compelled to do, or take up new land and live upon what they can raise.

A multitude of facts might be introduced to show that the policy of protecting our own manufactures is in fact, and so understood, antagonistic to the manufacturing interests of England. Protection designs to help the American laborer, whether mechanic or farmer, and to encourage the investment of capital in manufactures that labor and capital may work out their best good to the community, here. The one sided free trade policy is to throw down the barrier between the American laborer and the grasping foreign capitalist, who, at home, grinds the faces of the poor, and to let him come here and crush with his reckless iron heels, the workingmen and small capitalists of our own country, until the weakness into which he has driven them shall enable him to fix his own terms and prices.

The following remarks from the Liverpool Chronicle of February 10, in allusion to the discussion in the Senate, between Mr McDuffie and Mr Evans, are full of significance:

"The subject of the Tariff had been again discussed in the American Congress, without any result. There seems to be a growing impression that nothing will be done relative to the Tariff until the new President is elected; and as Mr Van Buren is understood to be favorable to a low Tariff, we see with regret that his prospects are becoming 'small by degrees, and beautifully less.'"

This same paper will, probably, on the arrival of the news in England of the introduction of Mr McKay's new tariff bill, rejoice at the brightening prospects of British interest. Is it not worthy a serious thought, that when the Protective policy in this country is in force English capitalists and manufactures, groan; and just in proportion as advances are made towards the free trade policy, they rejoice? Americans, think of this.

There is also a disturbing cause to business and which, we fear, will prove greatly disastrous; we mean the probable effects of the agitation of the Oregon and Texas questions.—These matters ought not to be made party questions, but the fact cannot be concealed that the country has much to fear from the leaders of the Locofoco party. They seem disposed to push the country into extremities, and to rush on pell mell for party hobbies, though they bruise and crush the general prosperity of the people. The calm, sober sense of the people, will soon put an end to these mad projects of men who forsake the interests of the country for their own selfish aims.

The City Club was addressed last evening by Mr. Sayward, after which, Geo. Kent reported a memorial against the annexation of Texas to the Union, and an invitation was immediately given for persons to sign. It will be copied and ready for signature this afternoon, and will appear in our columns to-morrow.—Several of our excellent signers favored the Club with an excellent song, sung with fine taste and effect.

☞ The temperance lecture this evening at the City Hall will be worth attending. The lecturer is said to be an elegant speaker, and all know he has a noble subject. There should be a full house.

By the report of the Overseers of the Poor of this city, it appears that the cost of supporting the Poor of the city for the last year, over and above the income of the farm and Alms House, is but one thousand four hundred and eighty dollars and thirteen cents. The expenditures in some previous years, have reached sometimes, we believe, as high as five thousand dollars.—Much credit is undoubtedly due to the Overseers for the prudent manner in which the department has been conducted, and particularly so in ascertaining the legal residences and fixing the expenditures of the support of paupers upon their own towns. This has taken off a heavy expense affecting not only the expenditures of the last year, but relieving the City from future liabilities for permanent paupers.

It is worthy of remark that the system of providing for the support of paupers, so long and ably advocated by the late Mayor, in his several addresses to the City Council, and in his administration of the city, is now favorably felt; and the wisdom of the plan can no longer be doubted. Mr. Harlow has had much experience in administering the pauper department, and he brought it all to bear in fixing upon the plan which the city, at his recommendation, adopted It must be a source of great satisfaction to him, on retiring from office, where he has worked with a zealous regard for the interests of the city, to know that every recommendation in official messages has been adopted, and that they have all been approved in their practical working, especially in the most extensive one, and that, requiring the largest expenditure of money —the Alms House establishment.

☞ At the Annual Town Meeting in Exeter, Monday 18th March, 1844, chose John L. Hodsdon, Moderator; John H. Prescott, Town Clerk; John Cutler, Andrew Shaw, Lorenzo D. Butters, Selectmen, Assessors and Overseers of the Poor; John Cutler, Town Treasurer; John L. Hodsdon, Town Agent; Thomas J. Hill, Collector of Taxes and Constable; Rev. Elbridge G. Carpenter, John L. Hodsdon, David Barker, Sup School Committee.

The Town passed a vote by a large majority, instructing the Selectmen to grant no licenses for the sale of ardent spirits,—chose Col. Isaiah Avery, John Shaw, Esq., Capt. John Walker a Committee to ascertain and prosecute all violations of the license law.

Chose William Hicks an Agent for the sale of ardent spirits for Medicinal and Mechanical purposes only, with instructions to register the names of purchasers and the quantity sold to each, in a book, to be kept for that purpose. subject at all times to the inspection of citizens of the Town.

☞ A noble large cow Moose was hauled into this city yesterday morning purchased by Mr. John Low, and by him sent to Frankfort to be shipped to Boston by the Steam Boat. This moose was taken, as we understand by Mr. William P Kilgore: It was taken about sixty three miles from this city probably the largest cow moose that has been taken in this vicinity for several years. The Bostonians will find some capital stakes stowed away in it.

☞ The Nantucket girls are full of inventions. They first introduced the fashion of knitting at Lyceum meetings and now they have got up a new kink that is working wonders. When a young man says to one of them as she is returning from a party "Will you take my arm?" "La yes; and you too seeing it's leap year," is the immediate reply. The Sailor boys there never did their courting so easily before since the island was invented!

Dr. Barton has been directed by the President to vacate the bureau of surgery and medicine in the navy department. Additional charges have been preferred against him of a serious character —those previously alleged were bad enough, in all conscience.

Tract on the Tariff.

The Editor of The Tribune, at the suggestion of some friends of Protection of Home Industry, will prepare, as soon as possible, two Tracts on the following subjects;

I. The Tariff as it is and the Substitute proposed by the Loco-Foco, being a full statement and exposition of the rates of duty fixed by the present Tariff, with the reasons for each item, showing why each duty was made higher or lower, and how it bears upon the Labor of the Country; with the corresponding provision of the Tariff bill reported to the House by Gen. McKay from the Committee of Ways and Means, and which Loco-Focoism is pledged to drive through the House of Representatives at any rate, and the Senate if possible. The Whig and Loco-Foco Tariffs will be contrasted section by section, and the nature and bearing of each provision lucidly and calmly exhibited. The general influence of the present Tariff on Labor, Prices, &c. will be fairly shown.

II. Protection and Free Trade, or The Tariff Question Fairly Stated; being an elementary exposition of the nature, necessity, operation and effects of a Tariff of Duties on Imports, with wise discriminations in favor of our Home Industry.

—Each of these Tracts will contain 16 large and closely printed pages, (the size of the Junius Tracts,) and be sold for $2 per hundred or $15 per thousand. It will be the aim of the writer to make them perspicuous in statement, cogent in reasoning, and so fortified with undeniable facts as to command respect from opponents. The first will be published within a fortnight. Orders are respectfully solicited.—N. Y. Tribune.

Melancholy Occurrence.

A melanchoy accident occurred on the Portage of Baker's Brook, Madawaska, on the 12th inst. Mr Wm. Caughey, of Perth, was drtving a span of horses with a load of hay, and it is supposed that he must have fallen off in front of the sled, as he was found next morning with one of the runners across his breast, and quite dead. He must have been at least ten or twelve hours in that dreadful situation. He has left a widow, and four small children to mourn the loss of an affectionate husband and tender parent.

☞ It is estimated that over an hundred new buildings will be erected in Bangor the coming season. This appears well for our city, and with other indications of thrift we think our good little city may regain her former honorable standing as a place of business and of enterprize

☞ The bright, beautiful weather of our down east spring has made its appearance and is highly relished.

"And in that Town a Dog was found."

The above quotation Mr Editor, referred originally to the Town of Islington, and is a part of an exceedingly affecting poetical history setting forth how, "The Dog to gain some private ends," "Went mad and bit the man"—referring to a particular man, who had previously been on good terms with the Dog, and was moreover a man in general esteem for his many good qualities.

The good people of Islington, on this occasion were greatly excited and alarmed, as well they might be for they had no doubt, from the fact of so good a man having been bitten, that it was a case of real Hydrophobia, and the history goes on to inform us, that "While they swore the Dog was mad they swore the man would die," and yet after all, we learn that the sequel was not near as melancholy as had been apprehended for to the great joy and surprise of the sympathizing people of Islington, the man recovered of the bite. "The Dog it was that died."

I have though much Mr Editor of this interesting piece of history from observing the increasing multitude of the Canine race with which our good city is favored. "Mongrel, puppy, whelp and Hound" and curs of low degree. Hounds we have I presume of the very best breeds, and almost every variety of Curs and Mongrels, and if they are not of the most approved kinds, they will probably make up by their numbers, whatever may be lacking in their quality, and I observe too that we have coming on a fine progeny, of the square headed, sharp toothed, hold-on Bull Dogs.

Now Mr Editor I hold that there is nothing so conducive to the comfort and prosperity of a city, as plenty of dogs, and, who that has studied his primer, has not learned that. 'A Dog will bite, a thief at night.' Dog watch in a city, is nearly or quite as advantageous, as "Dog fence," or as it is sometimes called, running fence, in the country.

Dogs are also useful by day as well as by night, a Dog growling at a man's heels, as he walks the streets, has a tendency to make him quicken his steps, and so he gets on the faster, and should the man become apprehensive that the dog is determined to have hold of his heel string, he turns round, takes off his hat, and uses it as a weapon to keep the dog off, by this means the man gets exercise, learns to march backward, and at the same time acquires a graceful manner of handling his hat, this gives a polish to manners.

But sir, If I should notice at large the benifits to be and which are in fact daily derived from dogs I should much exceed the space which you can afford me. So I will just notice a few objections which may be made, and draw to a conclusion.

Now I admit that when dogs become very numerous there is a proportionate increase of the danger of Hydrophobia, and some people perhaps would say "perish the whole race of dogs rather than one human being should be sujected to this terrible malady," but I would say to such people that Hydrophobia is no such terrible matter after all, as was fully proved by the affair above alluded to at Islington.

Or it may be said that honest men may be attacked and have their clothes torn off them, as recently happened in our market, but I believe the man found no difficulty in getting new clothes and very likely better than those he lost, and I presume the tailors of our city, for a proper remuneration, will do as much for any man who may meet with a like misfortune; and it is within my knowledge that a lady a short time since had a rich dress sadly rent by a surly dog but I did not hear of her finding any difficulty in getting it either repaired or replaced. Or perhaps it may be said that a young lady was recently attacked, pulled down, and wounded by a dog—very well I admit the fact, but I believe the young lady was not killed, and if I am correctly informed has not been attacked by a dog but once since although nearly half a year, has elapsed since she was first bitten. Or perhaps I may be told of a gentleman who was lately much wounded in the face, and the sight of one of his eyes, greatly endangered, but I would ask was the dog mad? No, it cannot be said that the dog was mad for in this case the man recovered of the bite, and the dog yet carries his tail as high as ever. And as to frightining a few children daily almost into fits, all I have to say upon that subject is, that children are often frightened without cause.

The theme is fruitful, but it is time to draw to a close, in doing which, I shall make one concession, to the enemies of dogs. It is this, and friend as I am to dogs, I admit there may be such a thing as a redundance. We may have too much even of a good thing, as has not unfrequently occurred, in our elder sister cities N. York and Boston, and when I have, looking in one direction, been able to count eight or ten dogs, I have been led to think that in our earnestness to avoid "scully" we incurred some danger of running into "Calibogus."

To conclude Mr. Editor, as we now have a Mayor elected, and a Council all organized in a manner highly satisfactory, may we not hope that the subject of dogs, will receive due consideration. And if it should be thought that there is yet danger of deficiency, some proper measures may be taken to keep up the supply; but should they in their wisdom, think that the danger lies on the other hand; would it not be more humane, to take some preventive measures, by tax or otherwise, than to wait until the evil becomes intolerable, and then wage a war of extermination on the whole species, as has been often done by the municipal authorities of the cities spoken of, to the great discomfort of all the kind hearted inhabitants of said cities.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Thursday, March 21.

Message from the President was received in answer to a resolution from the Senate, giving a copy of the correspondence between this country and Great Britain in relation to the 10th article of the Treaty of Washington.

Mr Buchanan presented ten several memorials from citizens of Pennsylvania, praying that Congress will not alter the present tariff until experience has proved it injurious.

Mr Semple's resolution for giving notice to Great Britain of the termination of the article of the convention of 1818 providing for the joint occupancy of Oregon, was rejected.

In House—The resolution to send for persons and papers in the Rhode Island case, was adopted.

WASHINGTON, Friday, March 23.

In Senate,—The Pension bill was passed with some amendments, which will require the concurrence of the House. Strong remonstrances against a change in the Tariff were presented from Pennsylvania and Maryland.—Mr Hayward of N. C. presented several bills for cutting down salaries. Among others, the President's salary is proposed to be reduced to $15,000.

In House,—The Virginia and Alabama resolutions in answer to those of Massachusetts were reported upon by Mr Dromgoole, who thought the proposition contained in the latter would lead to a peaceable or violent dissolution of the Union. Mr D. moved the previous question on his report in order to cut off debate.—Mr Adams and Mr Parmenter did not wish to see the matter disposed of so summarily. But the main question (adopting the report) was sustained, 158 to 58.

ANNEXATION OF TEXAS.

THE citizens of Bangor, one and all, are invited to meet at the CITY HALL, in Bangor, next THURSDAY EVENING, at seven o'clock, to adopt such measures as the alarming evidences of an attempt speedily to unite Texas to this Union shall seem to require.

Let party considerations be thrown entirely aside, while love of country, love of humanity, prompts every citizen to an early, vigorous, decided and united remonstrance against this dangerous project.

SAWS.

ATENT GROUND CAST-STEEL MILL, CIRCULAR, and ⋊ CUT SAWS, from the brated Works of "HOE & CO." New York.
Saws are made of SANDERSON BROTH-& CO., BEST REFINED CAST STEEL, and superior workmanship, as well as quality, as be seen by the following notice from a Philahis Paper.
The comparative value of the Saws manufactby the Messrs. Hoe & Co. may perhaps be duly appreciated by those who understand the of them, (after stating that they are made of derson Brothers & Co. best Cast Steel, under proved process of tempering, and cut by Ma-ery with Mathematical precision) by describing main principle, of difference in grinding and hing, between the usual mode, and the plan of Hoe, by which these are ground. The first is easily described, because it is by a process which all are familiar; merely that of holdthe Saw upon a grindstone, by hand, and press-it backward and forward until it is ground bright, nearly true, measuring with the eye, as may thought will make it answer its purposes. The ticed eye, and skillful hand will, in this case, of rse, put a truer finish to the article than the illful, but any Mechanic can see that the exess of mechanical perfection can never be at-ed in this mode by the longest practice, how-r skillful.
n the other hand, Mr. Hoe's plan, by which e Saws are ground, consists of what we bee is termed a "lap," formed of a large, massive, on wheel, with its face covered with Emery, strongly Iron bound, to prevent its flying to es from the centrifugal force of its high and d motion, with a planed iron plate embedded a carriage passing forward and backward beth the wheel. On this plate of the carriage, rough saw plate is placed, where it is, by means gearing, graduated by raising or lowering, to the required amount of cutting or grinding, and rom through under the wheel, which is of im-se weight and pressure, and is whirled with almost inconceivable velocity of motion that ppears, by both operation and sound, to not only eat down in a moment, with a perfect blaze of dding off at a tangent from the wheel where is in contact with the Saw plate, but to complete business of grinding to a perfect trueness with a gle scrape on each side of the plate. Such is e plan of rendering mechanically perfect the ngest Saw.
The Circular Saw is ground by a Machine with erent arrangements, but similar in principle, ren-ng them equally perfect."

REDUCTION FOURFOLD IN PRICES—OR NOTHING.

AN article that every family must consider indispensable, when they know its power and value and which has heretofore been sold too high to bring it to all classes, has now been reduced fourfold in price, with a view that rich and poor high and low, and in fact every human being may enjoy its comforts; and all who get it shall have the price returned to them if they are not delighted with its use. We assert, without the possibility of contradiction, that all burns and scalds, every external sore, old or fresh, and all external pains and aches, no matter where, shall be reduced to comfort by it in five minutes—saving life, limb or scar. No burn can be fatal if this is applied, unless the vitals are destroyed by the accident. It is truly magical, to appearance, in its effects. Enquire for "Connel's Magical Pain Extractor," at Comstock & Co's., 21 Cortland street. Price 25 cents, or four times as much for 50 cents, and ten times as much for $1.

This we assert without fear of the least contradiction. Besides, it does not require the false certificate of the panacea & balsams and candies, to induce [illegible] to use this great [illegible] restorative. One trial will convince the sceptical, that its virtues are far above price. To be found only at G. W. LADD'S, corner of Smith's Block West Market Place.

DR. M'MUNN'S CELEBRATED ELIXIR OF OPIUM.

THIS is a new Chemical preparation, which contains ALL the valuable qualities of OPIUM, (and consequently, produces all its sedative and anodyne effects. The Elixer being divested of all the noxious and deleterious principles of the Opium, does not destroy the appetite, nor produce sickness at the stomach, Vomiting, Headache, or Constipation of the Bowels; hence its high superiority to Laudanum, Paregoric, and every other form of opiate.

This Elixir of Opium is therefore especially adapted to those cases in which Laudanum Paragoric, Morphine, Black Drop, &c., cannot be taken without being followed by those ill effects which they are so liable to produce.

PATENT MILL WHEELS.

THE Subscriber having for a long time given his attention to the construction and operation of Water Wheels, has finally succeeded in the invention of two kinds of Wheels for which he has received Letters Patent from the Government of the United States.

These Wheels are simple in their construction, cheap and durable, are easily put in operation, and are not liable like most other wheels to get out of order, they are not obstructed by back water, when the head is not diminished thereby; and the same power and speed is obtained, with about one half the quantity of water usually applied to wheels now in general use.

A great number of these Wheels are now in operation and give in all cases entire satisfaction; and for further information respecting them the following gentlemen are referred to, all of whom have some of said wheels in operation: Jacob Drummond, James B. Fiske, Amos Davis and Leonard March, Esqrs., Messrs. Fiske & Norcross, Foster & Gilman, S. P. & H. Strickland, W. T. & H. Peirce & Co. Bangor; Hon. J. S. Little, Portland; Hon. John Otis, Hallowell; F. A. Butman, Esquire, Dixmont; Robert Treat Geo. A. Peirce, Esquires, Frankfort; Daniel Dennett, Esq. Milo; Col. Henry Orne, Milton; Messrs. Fiske & Bridge, Milford; Ira Wadleigh, Esq. Oldtown; Capt. R. Fittz, Dedham; John Black and John M. Hale, Esqrs. Ellsworth;—Messrs. A. Campbell & Co. Cherryfield; Daniel Harwood, Esq. Machias; Levi L. Lowell, Calais.

The above wheels are manufactured and for sale at the Iron Foundries of Messrs. HINCKLEY & EGERY and FRANKLIN MUZZY & Co. in this city, who are furnished with a great variety of patterns, so that Wheels of any particular description, or adapted to any given head of water, can be furnished at short notice. They are also authorized to dispose of the Patent Right for the same.

DR. TAYLOR'S BALSAM OF LIVERWORT.
PRICE REDUCED.

DR. TAYLOR'S Balsam of Liverwort, from 375 Bowery, New York—for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Catarrhs, Asthma, Soreness of the Chest, Pain in the side and Breast raising of Blood, Liver complaint, Bronchitis, and all those affections of Throat and Lungs which are a source of so much suffering and unarrested, so often terminate in Consumption—this remedy is highly and justly distinguished. It is purely vegetable, mild and gentle in its effects upon the system, and can be taken in the most delicate cases, with safety as well as utility. Physicians, aware of its medicinal properties, and witnessing its effects even in extreme and in some instances apparently almost hopeless cases, often prescribe it in their practice, both as a palliative and a remedy, and with the Medical Faculty generally it has met with great approbation.

CONSUMPTION.—The following remarks were taken from the last number of the Medical Magazine:

"The surprising effect produced by the genuine Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort, made at 375 Bowery, in consumptive cases, cannot fail exciting deep and thrilling interest throughout the world. We have so long considered this disease (consumption) incurable, that it is difficult to credit our senses when we see persons, evidently consumptive, restored to health. Yet it is a fact of daily occurrence."

Certificates from the highest and most respectable sources, or persons who have been either greatly relieved by it, or entirely recovered from affections of the Lungs and Liver, could be furnished in abundance, but we insert only the following

CERTIFICATE.

Liver Complaint and General Debility. I was given up by two physicians, and told to prepare for death. I was so weak I could not raise my hand to my head. I was in this low state, when a friend sent me a bottle of Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort, from 375 Bowery, and before I had used up the bottle, I was able to sit up in bed. By the further use I have completely regained my health.
GEO. WELLS, 23 John-st.

For a common cold and cough, this is one of the very best remedies ever discovered.

N. B. There is a spurious and counterfeit article afloat; therefore be careful to get the genuine, which is from 375 Bowery, N. Y., and is for sale by G. W. LADD, Agent, Bangor.

THE PILES AND ALL SORES.

HAY'S LINIMENT is known now to thousands, as a most extraordinary remedy for these afflictions. It is impossible to tell in a newspaper, in such a manner, as to obtain full credence, the effects and benefits of this article, so general in the practice of advertisers of extolling articles of no merit. Such personal reference will be given as to bring conviction to the minds of the most unbelieving. Will sufferers only ask among their friends, if they have not heard or known its effects; and if they do not hear it more warmly praised than any other salve, let them not get it.—All fancy or exageration is positively excluded from the statements, and it is determined to say nothing of its merits, but what could be fully proved by a host of witnesses, in any court of justice. Will you look at the thing and the proof where it may be had? at G. W. LADD'S, A. P. GUILD'S, and A. YOUNG, JR. & CO., formerly Holden's. 3twd and w6m nov 9

CLEANLINESS OF THE HEAD AND HAIR.

STRANGE it is that persons who attend strictly to personal cleanliness, baths, &c., should neglect the Head—the Hair—the most essential—the most exposed—and the most beautiful, when properly cared for, of all the gifts of the Creator. Perfectly free may it be kept of dandruff or scurf, with a certainty that the hair cannot fall out, by the use of the BALM OF COLUMBIA. Ladies will you make your toilet without this article? I answer fearlessly no, if you have once tried and experienced its purifying effects—sweet perfume.

THE SICK HEADACHE.

THIS DISEASE is one from which arises more misery to the human family than is generally supposed; not being directly fatal, it is often neglected, or persons resort so much to the use of purgatives and other medicines as to impair their general health, and often induce fatal diseases. The article—Dr. Spohn's HEADACHE REMEDY, now offered seems to have overcome these difficulties. While its effects are most powerful and immediate in curing an attack or keeping it off, it is so perfectly mild and innocent as to be used for infants with the greatest effect and safety. This has now been tested by so many of the highest members of this community as to require no further proof.

RHEUMATISM CURED.

DR. HEW'S Nerve and Bone Liniment and Indian Vegetable Elixir, is the only certain and effectual remedy for Rheumatism, Gout, Contracted Cords, &c. In the most severe cases the above application was never known to fail. We might multiply a volume of testimonials to these facts, but prefer to have persons call where the above may be had, and where they can see such proofs of its efficacy, that would convince the most incredulous.
